April 22 May 1913.

The speakers felt to encourage both young & old to be as faithful as Sister Larsen. Young Sister Jessie E. Childs of Orangeville spoke of having known the deep well as well as any one present, having enjoyed this wonderful woman's England to a great degree. They came to Little Dale Valley together, and upon the appointment of Sister Larsen to act as president of the Speakers Society of the Stoke, it shall be the "Speakers' honor to be chosen as first Counselor." - Sister Larsen was a woman of the greatest intellectual ability, & nobody can do justice to her personal qualities; she is thought to have been nearest living a perfect life, and has everywhere garnered intense respect.

Edward A. J. Anderson, speaking, felt rather to thank God for looking her in the brilliant sunset of life. Then to feel sad, she was well satisfied with her life, and was one of the lamentation stanzas of the Stoke. She never was known to be the cause of a tear.

President L. P. Owens spoke of Sister Larsen's aptness as a fine builder found her in Saragat when she was Counselor in Peleg Society presiding of that State. Prayed that we may all live our lives and finish our duties here on earth, as the Lord speaks through King also to our American people on the other side.
